PUBLISHED ANNUALLY BY THE ANNUAL STAFF

FREDERICK COLLEGE

Portsmouth, Virginia

FOREWORD

In September 1958 two hundred and seventy students came to Frederick College for the first time with great anticipation both for themselves in a new venture and for the college in its new venture. The students felt that they were to be a very definite part of the history of Frederick College as they were its first students.

Days, weeks and months of planning, hoping and dreaming became a reality on this bright September day. Dormitories had been readied, faculty and staff had arrived, classrooms, cafeteria and all the other phases of the college life were in readiness for this first and important student body.

Frederick College came into being as a result of an idea and a dream of Mr. Fred W. Beazley, a native of Portsmouth, Virginia. To carry out his dream Mr. Beazley along with his wife Marie C. Beazley and Fred W. Beazley, Jr., established the Beazley Foundation in 1948. One of the expressed purposes of the Foundation was to establish in Portsmouth Frederick College. During the ten years Mr. Beazley, his wife and son gave of their time and talents and money to make it possible for worthy young people to have an education.

It is a tribute to the Beazley family that they have devoted their energies to the creation of a school which will serve and help to mold and develop young men into fine citizens.

DEDICATION

In grateful appreciation for the vision, generosity, and interest shown by the founder of Frederick College, we the students dedicate this our first annual. Few men have had the devotion and the spirit that has enabled them to devote their time, talents and money to the interest of young people as demonstrated by Mr. Fred W. Beazley.

Willard J. Blanchard, President

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

In September, 1958, we began the first year of school life at Frederick College. The empty buildings and campus became alive as we began to establish a routine, soon to become familiar and more distinct and vital. The college became fresh with ambition, different desires, and progressive physical changes in the campus. You, the first students, will go down in the history of the college with the establishment of precedents through your college work.

I take this opportunity to express my appreciation to you, the students of Frederick College, for investing your faith in this new institution, as has been shown by your attitude during the past year. It is my hope that all enrolled in this college will emerge with a great amount of academic, moral, and physical betterment.

We will view with great anticipation your progress in realizing your ambitions in life and our sincere interest will always be with you.

FREDERICK COLLEGE SONG

In the state of old Virginia, down tidewater way;
State where many noble, great men first saw light of day;
State of our own "Alma Mater," Frederick College dear;
There to learn lifes values true and overcome our fear;
There to learn our best to live, our hearts to never sear;
Hail, we hail thee "Alma Mater" Frederick College dear.
God bless thee, God keep thee Frederick College dear. Amen.

Its been a pleasure in having you across the hall in ol' Baylor. I really appreciated it when you use to come in the middle of the night and raised hell.... I really did! Have you ever considered shaving? You should try it sometimes! Now I realize you're a big "goof off" — but why in the hell don't you get squared away? .... If you don't, I'm afraid I'll have to give you 5!

Seriously James Grant Wilson — congratulations on becoming an officer and I hope you have as much success next year. I enjoyed being here at ol' Baylor and I hope we can get together next year (so you can wake me up in the middle of the night).
